BY-LAWS

PREAMBLE AND MISSION STATEMENT

The Illinois Council of Community College Administrators is dedicated to serving the interests of its members and to advancing the common needs of community colleges. Membership in ICCCA is open to all administrators in our state's community college system.

PURPOSE

- To provide a resource network, a forum for information exchange, and a vehicle for professional development.
- To represent the concerns and needs of community college administrators by participating on state committees, task forces, and advisory groups.
- To build effective alliances which will act on behalf of the common interests of community colleges.
- To collaborate with political and educational organizations throughout the state to advance the legislative and fiscal needs of community colleges.

HISTORY OF ICCCA

When the formation of today's community colleges began in the 1960's, there was in existence the Illinois Association of Junior and Community Colleges (IAJCCs). It had served as a statewide organization for the handful of junior colleges operated by high school districts, and as new community colleges were formed, they joined the IAJCC. At that time, four divisions were created: administrators, students, faculty, and trustees. Each college had four votes, one at each campus for the representatives of different divisions. In May of 1970, during an annual meeting in Peoria, Illinois, trustees in attendance unanimously agreed that a new organization of trustees was needed. The IAJCC's new year was to begin on July 1, but boards throughout the state withheld dues, and the fundless IAJCC went out of business. In 1973, administrators officially chartered a not-for-profit organization that became known as the Illinois Council of Community College Administrators (ICCCA).
